BENEFITS OF GIVING FEEDBACK

IN DHH CHILDREN

Early results of our ongoing study show that providing feedback to deaf and hard of hearing children helps them learn target words faster!

Compared to sessions without feedback, providing feedback improved the child's ability to:

- ▶ say the names of new objects
- ▶ identify new objects by name
- ▶ recall details about the objects

You can say...

Correct!

You got it!

Yes, great job!

Not quite.

Oops, try again!

Nope, it's this one!
