

2010 – 2011 Seminar Series

Date	Speaker	Joint Sponsor	Title/Field of Study
8/31/10	Heather Young, Ph.D. Associate Professor University of Melbourne, Australia		“Potential of cell therapy to treat enteric neuropathies”
9/14/10	Tatsuki Koyama, Ph.D. Assistant Professor of Biostatistics Vanderbilt Ingram Cancer Center Vanderbilt University		“Rigorous statistics for simple experiments: Basic Science from a statistician’s point of view”
10/26/10	Keith Sharkey, Ph.D. Professor & AI-HS Medical Scientist University Calgary		“Neuron-glia communication in the enteric nervous system: new insights into the workings of the gut”
11/02/10	Jay V Solnick, M.D., Ph.D Professor of Medicine, Microbiology and Immunology University of California, Davis		“Catch-me-if-you-can: Modulation of Helicobacter pylori surface proteins during experimental infection”
12/07/10	Justin Sonnenburg, Ph.D. Assistant Professor of Microbiology & Immunology Stanford University		“Functional Insight into intestinal microbiota operation and failure”
1/18/11	Mark Knepper, M.D., Ph.D. Chief, Lab of Kidney & Electrolyte Metabolism National Institutes of Health (NIH)	Diabetes Research Center, O’Brien Development Center	“Identification and Proteomic Profiling of Urinary Exosomes: a Bioengineering Approach”
1/24/11	Vasillis Pachnis, M.D., Ph.D. Head of Molecular Biology MRC National Institute for Medical Research The Ridgeway, Mill Hill, London		“Enteric nervous system development: recent progress and future challenges”
2/01/11	Steve Czinn, M.D. Professor & Chair Department of Pediatrics University of Maryland		“ Helicobacter pylori survives in the human stomach despite a robust immune response: An Intriguing Enigma”

3/01/11	Karen Guillemin, Ph.D. Associate Professor of Biology University of Oregon	Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology	“Bacterial regulation of epithelial cell proliferation in the zebrafish intestine”
4/07/11	Christian Jobin, Ph.D. Associate Professor University of North Carolina		“Interaction between inflammation, microbial composition and colorectal cancer”
4/26/11	John Miles, M.D. Professor of Medicine Mayo Clinic	Diabetes Research Center and Dept. of Surgery	“Trafficking of dietary and endogenous lipid fuels: a new old role for lipoprotein lipase?”
6/07/11	George Michalopoulos, M.D., Ph.D. Professor & Chairman, Pathology University of Pittsburgh		“Liver Regeneration and Liver Cancer”
